DETAILED ACTION

1. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:
2. I – as shown in Fig's 1-3 for example.
3. II – as shown in Fig 4 for example.
4. III – as shown in Fig 5 for example.
5. IV – as shown in Fig 6 for example.
6. V – as shown in Fig 7 for example.

The species are independent or distinct because structural differences between the embodiments are (prior to examination) considered to be patentably distinct whereby search and consideration of claims specifically drawn to the various embodiments in this one application would place undue burden on the examiner as regards search required and issues raised. It is further assumed (prior to examination) that should prior art be found having limitations particular to one embodiment, not all of the other embodiments would be rendered obvious.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

It is important for Applicant to carefully consider which if any claims are generic and indicate same as part of a complete Response to this Office Action. Likewise, Applicant should indicate which embodiment(s) of the invention and new or amended claims may be read. Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).
